Perennial provides help and support for those who are working, or have worked, in the horticultural industry, which includes professional gardeners, nurserymen and women, arboriculturists, garden centre employees and many more.

When a problem occurs, we respond quickly and effectively to the needs of the individual concerned - at whatever time of life that need arises. There is no standard answer to a problem and our approach is one of identifying the best methods of support and getting them into place as soon as possible.
